

MASTER OF LAWS

The Master of Laws (LL.M.) Degree Program seeks to provide an advanced level academic background to the LL.B.(Honors) graduates and is aimed at accelerating the students professional skills. The program will extend a period of one academic year which consists of two semesters. First semester consists of five courses of three credits. Second semester consists of six courses of three credits. A student shall have to complete the one year LL.M. Program within a maximum period of two academic years from the admission year, carrying 1100 marks of 33 credits. The medium of instructions shall be in English/ or Bangla. Each course will carry 100 marks.

The distribution of the courses is following:

Course Code	Course Title	Credit Hours	Lecture Hours Per-week	Pre-requisite
LAW 901	Principles of Civil Litigation	3	3
LAW 902	Intellectual Property Rights and Development	3	3
LAW 903	Laws of Alternative Dispute Resolution	3	3
LAW 904	Admiralty and Maritime Law	3	3
LAW 905	Research Methodology	3	3

LAW 1001	Private International Law	3	3
LAW 1002	Law of Human Rights and Gender Justice	3	3
LAW 1003	Child Law and Juvenile Justice	3	3
LAW 1004	International Refugee Law	3	3
LAW 1005	Law of International and Regional Organizations	3	3
LAW 1006	Research Monograph	3	3

COURSE DESCRIPTIONS:

LAW 901: Principles of Civil Litigation:

This course includes all aspects of practice and procedure, and the rules and principles which are applied in the court proceedings. This course covers the substantive legal principles underlying civil procedures and includes hands-on training in the drafting of court documents.

LAW 902: Intellectual Property Rights and Development

This course includes all aspects of intellectual creations like images, names, inventions, literary and artistic activities etc. The students will get a clear understanding of intellectual property, intellectual rights and mechanism of protecting such rights.

LAW 903: Laws of Alternative Dispute Resolution

The potentials of this course to an integrated curriculum is to prepare the law graduates /students for real world lawyering giving emphasize on the importance of working towards social justice through alternative process, creative problem solving and innovative research

LAW 904: Admiralty and Maritime Law

This course is designed to expose the students to greater depths of admiralty and maritime legal knowledge to give students the tools to engage in this special field.

Law 905: Research Methodology

This course is offered to introduce the students with a wide range of research how it is being done and to put that knowledge into practice.

Law1001: Private International Law

Conflict of laws exists within individual countries, of different legal traditions, different specific rules of private law, and different systems of private law, all of which are administered by court systems similarly subject to different rules and traditions of procedure. This course is designed to equip the students with comprehensive knowledge on theories and practices of Private International Law with a view to resolving of problems resulting from such diversity of courts and law.

LAW 1002: Law of Human Rights and Gender Justice

This course is designed to disseminate research based knowledge among young learners to Human Rights Law.

Law-1003: Child Law and Juvenile Justice

This course is designed aiming at acquiring a sound knowledge regarding child rights and prevailing juvenile justice system in Bangladesh which is essential for proper analysis of the legal development of juvenile justice in the existing national and international legal framework required to redress

Law-1004: International Refugee Law

This course is offered to acquire basic knowledge on the development, scope and purpose of international humanitarian law and refugee law

LAW 1005: Law of International and Regional Organizations

This course has been designed to make the students capable of understanding the structures and systems of the international organizations around the world as these organizations do have the common aims for the progress and betterment of human civilization.